

We are looking to hire again at the Analyst/Senior Analyst level! It's not just a job, it's an adventure. After studying finance, and/or accounting, and entering the workforce, you've had the chance to put your education to work, build skills, and gain experience. However, while your environment might be interesting, it might not be as exciting as you'd like it to be. Maybe there is growth potential, but not as much as you'd like. If that sounds like you, keep reading:

What the role entails:

- Preparing and delivering presentations throughout the investment banking deal execution life cycle.
- Assisting in the execution of transactions, such as financial modeling, valuation, comparable and relative value analyses.
- Conducting extensive industry, market and company-specific research.
- Building and maintaining client relations with established and prospective clients.
- Interacting with peers to continuously improve our processes.

What the role requires:

- 18 months+ of Investment Banking M&A and/or Capital Raising experience.
- Experience within the Business Services, CPG, Tech and or Manufacturing sectors is preferred.
- Bachelors in Finance, Economics, Business or related fields.

Send your cover email and resume to: info@westlakesecurities.com