

Managing Director

It's time. Perhaps you're working for a bulge bracket bank, a regional or boutique bank, or maybe even hung your own shingle out. You bet on yourself every day, you win, but something is missing. You feel something could be better. You know something needs to change.

You're ready for more. Not just doing more but being more. A growth culture. Service offerings that don't just help transactions but create value and build lasting relationships.

If you are looking for that next step, we are looking for you.

Qualifications

- 5+ years' Investment Banking experience
- You have a demonstrated ability to add value to clients, and to attract clients and talent.
- You are ready to embrace a growth-oriented, transparent, culture-first firm.

No resumes please – email a brief paragraph on what your career desires are for the next 3-5 years to: info@westlakesecurities.com